Test Series

Questions papers for Civil Services Examination are generally set and evaluated by senior professors of the respective discipline. At Dialectics IAS, civil services aspirants with Sociology optional get a chance to interact directly with senior professors for effective feedback. We believe in encouraging original thinking among candidates and, therefore, we don't believe in providing standard model answers to each and every question. At an examination of UPSC level, such standard model answers may do more harm than good to the candidates. UPSC looks for originality, spontaneity and creativity. Our test series is aimed just for that. However, to guide candidates, some model answers would be shared from time to time. We also wouldn't be uploading the answer-scripts of toppers for the same reason. We aim to highlight and encourage individual differences among candidates, not level them.

We don't outsource evaluation of answer scripts of candidates. At Dialectics IAS, evaluation is done by professors only. Admission, however, is subject to the availability of slot with the respective professor.
